Citi Appointed Depositary Bank for Hanwha Chemical Co., Ltd.'s Sponsored GDR Program

Citi's Issuer Services business, acting through Citibank N.A., has been appointed by Hanwha Chemical Co., Ltd. ("Hanwha"), a Korea-based company, as the depositary bank for its Global Depositary Receipt (GDR) program.

Hanwha's GDR program was established through a $340 million offering, originally priced at $15.70 per GDR. The GDRs are listed on the Singapore Exchange Securities Trading Limited.

"It's a privilege to be appointed the Depositary Bank by Hanwha," said Dirk Jones, Head of Global Issuer Services at Citi. "With Citi's investor relations expertise and unparalleled global presence, we're confident that our powerful platform will facilitate the success of Hanwha's GDR program."

Citi is a leading provider of Depositary Receipt Services. With Depositary Receipt programs in 55 markets, Citi leverages its global network to help companies connect to new markets and raise capital worldwide.
