Citi Appointed as Depositary Bank for VIA Technologies, Inc.'s GDR Program

Citi Issuer Services, acting through Citibank, N.A., has been appointed by VIA Technologies, Inc. (“VIA”) to act as Depositary Bank for its Global Depositary Receipt (“GDR”) program. VIA is a leading AI enabler, providing comprehensive AI solutions for a wide range of industries.

VIA’s Global Depositary Shares (“GDSs”) trade on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange under the ticker “VIARP” for the Rule 144A GDSs and “VIAGP” for the Regulation S GDSs. Each GDS represents five (5) ordinary shares. The initial public offering price is US$19.08 per GDS. The common shares are listed and traded on the Taiwan Stock Exchange under the stock code 2388.

“We are pleased to expand our collaboration with Citi through the depositary bank appointment for our GDR program. This marks a significant milestone for VIA as we embark on a new chapter of growth. We value Citi’s expertise and commitment to enhancing our program for the benefit of our investors,” said Lydia Chen, CFO of VIA Technologies, Inc.

“Citi’s selection as depositary bank for VIA’s GDR program further underscores our cross-border capabilities. We are committed to leveraging our global network and capital markets expertise to provide VIA’s investors with the highest quality Depositary Receipt services,” said Dirk Jones, Global Head of Issuer Services at Citi Securities Services.

Citi Issuer Services is a leading provider of depositary receipt services, spanning equity and fixed-income products. With depositary receipt programs in over 65 markets, Issuer Services leverages Citi’s global network to provide cross-border capital market access to issuers, intermediaries, and investors.
